VOL. 14, NUMBER 121 MONESSEN, PA, TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1915 SIX CENTS THE WEEK

Indications Point To Republican Victory

The Republican ticket in Westmoreland county will win today. There is every indication of this in spite of the fact that certain so-called political combinations have decided to hamper it. Their schemes will be shown up when the ballots are counted. Money is an inducement to some people, but not to the great mass of voters. It is the quiet vote that will swing the election of today, and that vote is going for the Republican ticket with the exception of that element that can be bought and influenced.

But this is a Republican year and no man who calls himself a Republican has any excuse for defacing his ballot. We had a fair and open primary election when a majority of the voters selected the men who should be our standard bearers, and if we believe in the principles of the party of prosperity, we will vote the straight ticket today despite the efforts of the men who sell out in every campaign or are willing to sell.

This is an election which will tell the tide of affairs for the approaching presidential campaign and if the Republican party is to win next year, it must win today. What will Monessen do toward a victory?

Will she stand loyal to the nominees of the party or will she be swayed by prejudices and feelings of a few who constitute themselves leaders of any party as the conditions appeal to them.

By the registration and by every evidence Monessen has a strong Republican lead. It has the largest Republican registration of any town in the county, and for any Democrat to be able to approach victory here is a reflection upon our political faith. Governor Brumbaugh in a forceful speech in Philadelphia, said:

"The nation is interested in a very definite way in this campaign. You know as well as I know that the moment this war is over in foreign lands, we shall have an unusual and remarkable economic situation thrust upon us here in America, and never in the history of this county since the Civil war have we so much needed loyal friends of the protective tariff in the Congress of the United States as we shall need them when the products of the foreign markets begin to flood our countries and our states and our cities in the near future.

"All your revenue laws, as you well know, originate in the lower House of Congress, and it is of the utmost importance that this great Republican state of Pennsylvania should behave itself in this coming contest, that it will send a solid and an aggressive delegation to that Congress, to help frame a protective tariff that will be fair to the working people of this great country of ours."

If you are not a Republican today, don't ask the electors of this party to ever support you, for you are not worthy.

Ready For Season

Manager Harry Lebowitz of the Olympic billiard rooms and bowling alleys, has at a great expense remodeled and improved his popular place of amusement for the fall and winter trade and invite his many friends and patrons to pay him a visit

The three bowling alleys have been replaned and schlacked by experts from Pittsburgh and are now considered the best alleys in the city. The pool and billiard tables have undergone all necessary improvements, and in fact everything has been accomplished for the comfort and pleasure of the patrons. Mr. Lebowitz is now making an effort to form a City League of ten pin bowlers, and if this is accomplished, some rare sport is promised local people during the winter months. Efforts are also being made to form an inter-city three cushion billiard league.

Library Open Tonight

The regular session of the local night school will be held this evening in the new High school building and an opportunity will be given all who have not enrolled to do so at this time. The session convenes at 7:30 but any new scholars who wish to enter are requested to be at the building at 7 o'clock. The session lasts from 7:30 to 9:30 each Tuesday and Thursday evening.

On account of the night school the public school library will be open from 7 to 9 in the evenings of the session and the public is invited to take advantage of the library during these hours if they so desire. Books may be secured from the library at this time, or if it is desired, patrons of the library may use it as a reading room as plenty of reading tables have been supplied Visitors will find in addition to the books many of the latest magazines and other periodicals of interest The library is open every school day from 4 to 5 and on Saturday afternoon from 1 to 3 with a competent librarian in charge

Suffragists Parade

The suffragists made quite a hit in the parade last night Quite a little effort was put forth by the people who believe in the ballot for women and they made a good showing. It was creditable too, and shows the devotion of the advocates of the equal franchise cause Today a number of women were at the several polling places and are using their influence to have the men vote for their cause. Their attitude has been orderly and dignified and while there is yet a question in the minds of many men, the issue has come to a point for sober, serious reflection and where the intelligent man must think and think hard before he marks his ballot. This national appeal for equal franchise cannot be treated too lightly or with prejudice.

Home Talent

Under the direction of James S. Russell of Charleroi, the farce comedy "Facing the Music" will be produced here Friday night, December 12 and at Charleroi the night previous. Rehearsals have been taking place for several weeks and assurance is given of a comedy that will produce many a laugh.

The affair will be put on for the benefit of the Monessen-Charleroi hospital and will include only local talent. The High school auditorium will be utilized for the event in Monessen. Tickets will be placed on sale shortly and the outlook is very promising for a successful performance both financially and otherwise.

James S. Russell who is directing the show, has had much experience in this line of work and all of the cast have appeared before the footlights before, many of them having won recognition by their acting. This, with the character of the play and the cause for which the proceeds are to be used, is considered sufficient reason to expect a large audience on the night of the performance here.

The cast consists of ten people, and includes James S. Russell, Mrs. Jas. S Russell, Mrs. Willis McCook, Miss Cecelia McDermott, Horace Nutt, John Lavrinc and Bannister Roberts of Charleroi and Miss Amelia Patrick, W. O Williams and Hugh Smythe of this place.

Olympic today—"Via Wireless," a Gold Rooster Pathe Play in five parts adapted from the great play of the same name by Paul Armstrong and Winchell Smith, featuring the most beautiful actress, on the stage, Gail Kane and Bruce McRae. We have been told and we learned and know that the picture is one of the best ever in Monessen. Now do not stay at home only to be sorry at us afterwards, that we have not told you about this great picture. It is great.

Big Game Saturday

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 2.—All western Pennsylvania is agog over the football game at Pittsburgh Saturday between the University of Pittsburgh and Washington & Jefferson college, and the largest crowd that ever witnesed a game in the state is looked for. It will be played at Forbes Field, the home of the Pittsburgh National League baseball club, which has a capacity of 30,000, and the management of the local team is making arrangements to pack the crowd in every available nook and corner of the park. Last year 25,000 saw the annual game and the interest seems to be even greater this year. The game will start at 2:30 p. m.

It would seem impossible to have more ideal conditions for the annual battle between the two rivals. Both will enter the game undefeated and with wonderful records back of them. The winner will be able to claim honors among the first three teams of the East and might even go further and claim top notch honors. Pitt has won from University of Pennsylvania, the Annapolis Middies and Carlisle Indians, while W. & J. has won from Yale by a decision score and from Lafayette college.

Play Monongahela

The Monongahela High school foot ball team defeated the Donora High school team at Donora Saturday by a score of 13 to 7. The local High school team will meet the Monongahela team at that city Saturday of this week and if the dope holds out, should easily be returned the winners. The locals defeated the Donora team the week previous to the Monongahela-Donora game by a score of 27 to 0.

—The Gymnasium Classes of the local Turn Verein will hold a dance in the Turner hall this evening. Good music and a good time for everybody. You are welcome. 1t fp

Great Throng Witnesses The Hallowe'en Celebration

Monessen's annual Hallowe'en celebration last evening was in all probability one of the greatest successes in the history of the town. Thousands of people lined Donner avenue from Eighth street to Third street, watching the revelers as they paraded up and down the streets. Early in the evening the crowd began to arive and the city took on the festive aspect. Street cars brought hundreds from the adjoining towns and by 8 o'clock Donner avenue was a crowding, pushing jollificating mass of humanity. Clowns, Charlie Chaplins, goblins witches, the time honored Weary Willies and all the fantastic elves of fairyland made up the crowd, out for a night of revelry. Many of the young girls of the town, then sex concealed by every known form of disguise and costumes jostled through the crowds among a cloud of confetti and every known noise making device ringing in their ears.

The parade started shortly after 8 o'clock from the P & L. E. freight station, headed by the Louhi band and a patrol from the local Boy Scouts. Following them came a struggling mass of mummers and then came the Finnish band and hundreds of other masqueraders.

The great Spiegel band, with their rag time music was next in line and after the remainder of the paraders had passed the reviewing judges, the Suffragists with their long string of autos and marchers and yellow banners floating brought up the rear. Included in this part of the parade was a huge float on an auto truck filled with children dressed in yellow and white, all asking that their mother be given the vote. They were the winners of the first prize.

Fifty prizes were donated but owing to the manner in which they were awarded by the thirty judges it was impossible to secure the names of the winners.

Following the parade the marchers disbanded and joined the throng on the sidewalks where they made merry until late in the evening. No disorder was reported by either the Boy Scouts patrol or the police and no arrest were made during the evening.

Concert Friday

Everything is in readiness for the concert to be given in the auditorium of the new High school building Friday evening of this week, and from all indications, it will be a success both from a social and financial standpoint. Director Wahlstrom of the Louhi band has arranged a program that will undoubtedly meet with the approvel of his audience and as an extra added attraction Miss Helen Baschroff, the noted soloist of the Carnegie Music hall of Pittsburgh, will render several selections. The tickets are being sold by the business men of the city as well as a number of the school children and everything is being done to make the affair a financial success, as the proceeds are to be used towards the local public school library.

The Bad Reflects Good

Consider the mud puddle. The days are coming when you can't get around it, anyway: When you see a mud puddle, do you see only a mud puddle, or do you see a mirror, that reflects the beauties of the sky and stars and trees? Do you realize that every dirty, much-ringed pool in the roadway gives you a glimpse of the majesties of this earth—the clouds moving in dignified procession across the heavens, the gay foliage with which nature bedecks our world, the glories of an autumn night? Was your attention ever arrested by the sight of the new moon shining brightly in a stagnant gutter? If it was, perhaps you understand why this newspaper prints some of the unpleasant things that make up the day' news. Can't you use the misery, squalor and shame of our day as a mud puddle in which to mirror the starry happiness that, we hope, a future day holds for all of us?

That United Vote

Those hyphenated Americans who terrorize American politicians by threat of the foreign vote are engaged in treason to the American republic," declares Teddy Roosevelt.

Well, Well. Then there is something that can terrorize the American politician, is there? Almost every campaign has its demagogues who appeal to the Irish vote, the German vote, or the Italian vote, and try to make us tremble over what those votes are going to do? Whew—we were thinking that we are being terrorized by it and now comes the Colonel, some politician himself, you bet, and claims that the politicians do the quivering and quailing. Gents running for office must avoid being treasonable through stirring up the hyphenated.

The Majority Is Right

Practical German philosophy teaches that the value of right may depend on the force that upholds it; that if this force be wanting, the weak will be sacrificed. Like all other philosophy you can argue it out to the end any way you please, but just the same there's a good deal to this philosophy.

In the United States the majority is right. But what'll this bigger army we are going to have do when right—the majority—looks for support some day in the future? We will have force all right. Will that force uphold the value of right? Will that force stand with the weak, plodding, producing 90 per cent. in America or with the strong, non-producing, grasping 10 per cent. of us. Your answer.

He Has A Big Job

One Alfred Bryan, author of that touching ballad, "I Didn't Raise My Boy to be a Soldier," is engaged in, or attempting to start a controversy with Theodore Roosevelt, through the columns of the New York World The last public letter Mr. Bryan authored was real pungent, we might almost say rude. We haven't much sympathy to waste on either side, but if Mr Bryan will not take it amiss, we would like to proffer the suggestion that he is engaged in a most ticklish business for any boy who wasn't raised to be a soldier. That Roosevelt man is bad medicine.

DR. A. D. MILLER

TO THE VOTERS OF WESTMORELAND COUNTY

What is a laboring man? I will let you answer that question. You shall be the judge of both my honesty and fitness to fill this important office. It is true that I have not come from East Liberty, Allegheny county, seven years ago, and I have not lived in Pleasant Unity six years and three months, and nine months in Irwin. I was born and raised in good old Westmoreland county, as my mother and father were before me and I expect to die in it. Now, what is a workingman? Is he poor, does he stint himself and his family so that he can buy medicine for the old and feeble? Does he pay the rent of widows and buy clothes, food and coal for the orphans? Does he work for the same people for nothing for thirty years because they are feeble in mind and body? Does he attend the crippled and non-paying night and day, snow and rain, Sundays and holidays whether he himelf is sick or well. Now if this is a working man, then I am one, or if it means a professional man, then I am one. You can prove the truth of what I say by asking anyone that knows me. If you think I deserve this office, vote for me. I shall appreciate it.

Your friend,
adv 19-3t Dr. A. D. Miller.

A Resident Known to all our Readers Relates an Experience

Readers of the Independent have been told again and again of the merits of that reliable, time-proved kidney remedy—Doan's Kidney Pills. The experiences told are not those of unknown persons, living far away. The cases are Monessen cases, told by Monessen people.

Mrs. R. Gilmour, 102½ First street, Monessen, says: "I suffered for years from a lame back and often when I stooped, the misery was so intense that I cried aloud. If I moved suddenly, it seemed as if something snapped in my back. When I exerted myself in sweeping or doing housework, the pain was unbearable. I felt tired and listless all the time and my head ached. My eyes were affected and I was all worn out. I consulted several doctors but none of them seemed to do me any good, and finally I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. A few boxes made me quite well. Others of the family used Doan's Kidney Pills as a kidney tonic and think highly of them."

AUTOMOBILE LICENSES ARE NOW READY

Harrisburg, Pa., Nov. 1—"Now is the time to send in your applications for 1916 licenses," is the keynote of a notice sent out by the State Highway Department. The application blanks for 1916 registrations and licenses are now ready and are being sent out, and according to statement, all owners are urged to get their application in at the earlest minute possible.

The Automobile division of the State Highway department has prepared for the annual rush of applications and already many have been received, but, according to the statement, all corporations, firms, manufactureres, department stores and other organizations using many automobiles and desiring consecutive numbers on their license plates are particularly requested to get their applications in without delay in order that serial numbers may be assigned. Attention is called to the law governing the granting of licenses, which requires an affidavit, properly filled out, to accompany the application.

Shipment of 1916 licenses will be begun by the Automobile Division of the State Highway department in December 1.

This year, as in the past, many requests have been received from automobile owners for the same number which they now have. These requests include a very great number for the low figures up to 100. While the State Highway department is anxious to comply with these requests wherever possible, it must be understood of course, continues the statement, that it is not possible to grant all of these requests. Where a certain number has been held by a party for several years, that fact has weighed in the re-distribution of numbers for 1916. The Department files and considers requests for the re-assignment of numbers and wherever it is at all possible, they are granted. The statement issued, however, gives notice that no application for specific numbers will be entertained after Nov. 20.

Another point on which the statement place emphasis is that no municipality, city or borough has the right under the law to grant any individual the right to operate his car without a license or with the license of another year. Heretofore, several municipalities in the state have, through their police officials, notified automobile owners that license plates of the previous year would be good until the new plates were received. This the State Highway department asserts is an unauthorized action and no leniency will be extended in the future unless an official notice is promulgated by the State Highway Department that owing to congestion in the Automobile Division, it is impossible to send out the plates.

HARRISBURG MAN IS NOW HAPPY

I. E. Beckwith Says Wonderful Remedy Gave Him Great Help.

I. E. Beckwith of Harrisburg, Penn., was a victim of disorders of the stomach and intestinal tract. He tried treatment after treatment. Nothing gave him relief.

Then one day he discovered Mayr's Wonderful Remedy—and soon was happy.

Mr. Beckwith wrote to Geo. H. Mayr, the maker of the remedy and for twenty years the leading druggist of Chicago.

"I believe that Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is the greatest stomach remedy on earth. One dose would convince any one who is troubled with his stomach of its wonderful merits. It removed some of the most awful looking stuff from my stomach. I have taken other remedies, but they never helped me."

Mayr's Wonderful Remedy gives permanent results for stomach, liver and intestinal ailments. Eat as much and whatever you like. No more distress after eating, pressure of gas in the stomach and around the heart. Get one bottle of your druggist now and try it on an absolute guarantee—if not satisfactory money will be returned.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IS GOING, NOT COMING

Antis Produce Figures to Prove Votes For Women Losing Instead of Gaining Ground in United States.

Look at the map! On it you will notice that twenty-six states are marked "anti." Every one of these states has defeated woman suffrage since 1912. These twenty-six states contain over 46,000,000 population, or half that of the entire country.

Glancing at the western part of the United States, the reader finds a large black area, showing where woman suffrage has been adopted by eleven states, which have a total population of only 9,000,000. Woman suffrage was established in those states as follows. Wyoming, 1869, by the territorial governor, at the request of a suffragist; Colorado, 1893, by a majority of 6300, Idaho and Utah, 1896, by a combined plurality of 24,000, Washington, 1910, by 31,000 majority, California, 1911, by 3500 majority, Oregon, Kansas and Arizona, 1912, by an aggregate of 25,000 majority; Montana and Nevada, 1914, by a combined majority of 7500.

It will be seen that four of the suffrage states have been held for a generation. Five were gained between 1910 and 1912 on waves of insurgency in the western states, but since that time, the wave has subsided, and the anti-suffrage majority has asserted itself by tremendous victories at the polls. In Ohio, 1912, suffrage was defeated by 87,000 votes, but in that year it almost won Michigan because of the lack of anti-suffrage organization. Four months later, the question was submitted to Michigan voters again, after the anti-suffragists had conducted a vigorous educational campaign. Michigan defeated votes-for-women in 1913 by 96,000 majority, or more than the total pluralities by which woman's suffrage came in the eleven full suffrage states In 1914, Ohio defeated the franchise for women by 182,000 majority, increasing its adverse vote by nearly 100,000, just as Michigan did. Missouri downed woman's votes by 140,000 majority, and Nebraska, North Dakota and South Dakota also defeated suffrage by a combined plurality of 22,000. In 1915, the question was put to the legislatures of thirty-two states. In twenty-four of the states the proposition to submit it to the voters was defeated; in four of the states, New York, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and New Jersey, it was submitted for approval, and in four others it will probably be decided at the polls in 1916.

In addition, woman suffrage has been defeated in both branches of the United States congress within two years.

Of the 1915 campaign states, the suffragists are beginning to admit that there is only a bare hope of their winning even one; and if all are lost, thirty states, with 70,000,000 population will have defeated woman suffrage in three years, against eleven states, with only 9,000,000 people adopting it since 1869!

The legislative defeats prove that it will be impossible to secure any ratification for a suffrage amendment to the federal constitution. All parties in congress are pledged to keep votes for women a state issue, and therefore the "cause" can expect no help in its desire to get the vote without the consent of the voters in the separate states.

The entire series of victories is due to the vigorous campaign being conducted by the active opponents of suffrage, who, in the last few years, have insisted that it would be a step down for women to take part in politics, and that the overwhelming majority of the women themselves are opposed to giving up the privileges they at present enjoy under male suffrage.

WOMAN'S RIGHTS

Some of the privileges that women enjoy that are denied to the men are as follows. No woman is obliged to contribute to the support of her family. Neither is she obliged to render any service or labor to her husband. She may go out and seek employment, or even open a business of her own, and the husband cannot touch her wages or her profits. She may buy, sell or otherwise dispose of her property without her husband's consent, yet her signature is necessary if he wants to sell his property, and his business or his wages can be attached for her, and her children's support. In case of a divorce, the man pays alimony if he is in the wrong, and the costs of the lawsuit in any case, whereas, if the wife is responsible, she goes free. A man who marries a woman earning twice as much as he does must still give her enough to live on out of his wages, while she can spend all of hers on dress and finery and yet look to him for support. In industry, women are given a nine-hour day, seats in stores, specified periods for lunch and rest, protected from hazardous employment, heavy lifting, and night work—laws that do not apply to men. On the other hand, every law for the benefit of the man worker—like the compensation law—applies equally for the woman.

Twenty states, including Pennsylvania, protect women from night work—only three of them are suffrage states. Fourteen states, including Pennsylvania, have a lower limitation of hours for women than Wyoming, where they have voted forty-six years.

In California, women have lost many of the privileges they had under male suffrage Women have even been made to pay alimony, and are held responsible for the debts of bankrupt or deceased husbands, as well as compelled to assume equal responsibility for the support of the children.

Of all women over twenty-one, only nineteen per cent. are unmarried; of all over thirty-five, only nine per cent. are single. Only six women in 100 reach old age without marrying. Of all the women in industry, ninety per cent are living at home; forty-five per cent. are employed in the homes of other women, and thirty per cent. are under age. There is no class of women which would be benefitted by votes, or which would secure any better representation that that given now by the husbands, fathers, sons and brothers who make more chivalrous laws for women than they could ever obtain through votes.

THE FAMILY AS THE UNIT OF SOCIETY

Suffragists do not believe that the family is the true social unit. The unit of society is not the individual of either sex, because society and the race would perish if they depended on a group of individual men or individual women.

The family is the true unit, without which there could be no society.

The man, as the head of the family, casts his vote as its representative. If two votes are given the family instead of one, it merely adds to the expense without affecting the result, while, if the wife votes against the husband, it cancels the family representation and provokes discord in the home. If women cannot trust their own husbands to represent them, how can they trust any other men?

If men cannot be trusted, then we should have two legislatures, one for men and one for women; two governors, one a woman, and two presidents of the United States' If a married man cannot represent a family—and 90 per cent. of the voters are married men—how can an unmarried man or woman legislator represent a thousand families? Think it over, then vote NO on woman suffrage next Tuesday for the sake of your family

CHIVALRY FOR WOMEN

The execution of a woman in Belgium has produced more public sympathy than would have been given had a thousand men been shot for the same offense. Yet, Mrs. Grace Wilbur Trout, an Illinois suffrage leader, insists that sex should make no difference in such matters. In this, as in many other things, the suffrage theory is repugnant to the ideals of the majority, who do not wish to reduce women to equality with men by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever: nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Animated Weekly. Used by all the leading theatres of America. The 23rd episode of "The Diamond from the Sky." Our patrons prefer to do without their meals rather than miss this picture.

SPECIAL PROGRAM

TUESDAY— "Via Wireless," a Gold Rooster Play in five parts, adapted from the great play of the same name by Paul Armstrong and Winchell Smith, featuring Gail Kane and Bruce McRae. Supported by Paul McAllister and a splendid cast. Marsh, a draughtsman in the gun factory of John Durant, is swindled by Edward Pinkney, Durant's general manager, out of the huge royalty to be paid should a gun of Marsh's invention prove a success. Pinkney loves Maisie. but is outrivaled by Lieut. Somers, U. S. N. Somers has also invented a gun which he gives to be cast to the Durant Iron Works, and which if successful, will do Pinkney out of his expected graft on the Marsh invention. Pinkney takes good care that the Somers gun is "killed" in making. He then misrepresent Somers to Maisie and her father and although Maisie loves the Lieutenant, she feels she must give him up. Accompanied by her mother and Pinkney, she goes in the Durant yacht for a cruise. The boat hits a mine and in the rush to leave her, Maisie is trapped in the wireless room. She sends out the S. O. S. signal taught her by Leiut. Somers. The Lieutenant, aboard a U. S. cruiser, arrives at the side of the doomed ship just in time to make a sensational rescue.

WEDNESDAY—"The Yellow Jacket" featuring Lillian Lorraine and William Courtleigh in "Neal of the Navy." The story: Mrs. Hardin, Neal Hardin, Annette Hington and Joe Welcher are rescued by a U. S. cruiser when the tramp steamer Princes goes down. Pinned to Annette's underclothing is a map showing the location of Lost Isle. Hernandez and Ponto,, two evil soldiers of fortune know of the existence of Lost Isle and seeks the map. The second episode opens eighteen years later. Neal is a clean cut,manly young American, while Joe is a slinking young man of bad habits. Hernandez and Ponto are drug smugglers and have, as their slave and beast of burden, a gigantic beast-man, bereft of all reason. A young adventuress, Inez Castro, is in league with the smugglers and insinuates herself into the Hardin household to steal the map of Lost Isle. Hernandez, Ponto and their brute-man are apprehended in an attempt to land some drugs of the Seaport coast and a running fight follows. Mrs. Hardin explains to Annette about her heritage of Lost Isle and shows her the map. They are all alarmed by many shouts outside and run out in time to see the smugglers, pursued by the officers coming toward the house. After Annette is knocked down by Hernandez in his mad rush, Neal is mainly instrumental in capturing the two outlaws who are put in the town jail. Late that night the brute tears out the bars from their cell and frees them. Neal decides to try for Annapolis. The next episode will be "The Failure." Watch for it.

THURSDAY—The Universal presents Hobart Bosworth in "Fatherhood." A drama of Arizona and the human appeal. Lon Gilchrit, a middle-aged and immensely wealthy ranchman, drives into a southwestern settlement and meets a pretty waitress in a lunch room. After several such vuaits he proposes to her. She is astounded after their marriage to find that her husband instead of being a poor cowboy as he had thought, is a millionaire. Gilchrist, a bachelor all his days, pays little attention to his wife and she suffers under his neglect. Finally she can stand her isolation no longer and leaves for the settlement. Lon thinks she has left with a handsome young cowboy who he sometimes asked to take her to countryside gatherings. Later he finds he is mistaken. The girl becomes a mother and sends a postal of her baby to Lon who races to the settlement to see his child. There is an affecting reconcilliation and the ranchman, his lesson learned, thereafter makes his wife his pal in all his interests.

Local Notes

Fully three hundred football fans will travel to Pittsburgh Saturday to witness the Pit-W. & J. game at Forbes Feld. Besides being a championship contest, the local people are interested in the work of James Herron, the local lad, who is playing end on the Pitt team. Lawrence Moore, also of this city, is a member of the W. & J. squad but will probably not take part in the game.

—"The Fair God of Sun Island" in three reels, featuring handsome Herbert Raulinson and L. Maxim. You will certainly be glad to see Raulinson as the fair castaway on a sacred island visited only for religious ceremonies by the South Sea Islanders. Marvelous setting. 1t

THOMPSON MAY SECURE LOAN

Uniontown, Pa., Nov. 2—Another extension was made yesterday in the affairs of Josiah V. Thompson, coal operator and formerly president of the First National Bank of Uniontown, when the attorneys representing his creditors gave him until tomorrow to make some financial arrangement in order to prevent suits being filed against him. Mr. Thompson is in New York trying to raise between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000 to satisfy his creditors. It was reported early today that his mission was successful, but attorneys representing his creditors said they had no confirmation of the report.

Sunday a committee of attorneys representing the Thompson creditors composed of A. F. Cooper, H. L. Robinson and W. H. Cochran went to New York to ascertain the possibility of Mr. Thompson's raising the vast amount of needed money from New York financiers. At the meeting of the bar association yesterday it was reported that Attorney Cooper of the committee had telephoned from New York to Uniontown that by reason of a train delay, he and Robinson and Cochran had been unable to keep appointments with Mr. Thompson and had nothing definite to report. It was then the Bar association extended the time for action to Wednesday afternoon.

The committee in the meantime will interview the New York financiers from whom Mr. Thompson is trying to get the loan. Mr. Thompson and the committee are expected here by Wednesday morning.

Receiver John H. Strawn of the First National Bank and his assistants are working out the affairs of the bank.

It was reported here today that if the First National bank should be reopened, Mr. Thompson and some of the present directors would not be among those directing its affairs.

Many residents here believe that the future of Uniontown and Fayette county depends on the re-opening of the bank. These same people believe that Uniontown will resemble an abandoned or worked out western mining town in case of permanent failure of the bank.

"That is all a mistake," said a merchant today, "the future of Uniontown and Fayette county does not depend on the reopening of the bank or the financial rehabilitation of Mr. Thompson."

In spite of the First National bank being closed, labor is plenty, merchants are busy and local industries here are operating at full capacity.

The condition of the First National bank of Uniontown is being made an issue in the election of the county treasurer of Fayette county. E. T. Norton, president of the First National bank of Connellsville, won the Democratic nomination, and George Orval Rush, a wholesale liquor dealer, obtained the Republican nomination at the primary. Capt. W. T. Craft, county treasurer, had on deposit $75,000 of the county' funds in the First National bank of Uniontown when it closed.

Mr. Norton is making his campaign on the platform that he would deposit the county's funds in the banks in the townships and boroughs where the collections were made. Mr. Norton maintains that such a plan would not result in all the county's funds being inoperative if one or more banks should fail. Mr. Rush believes all the county's funds should be placed in a Uniontown bank.

—At 2 o'clock this afternoon the fire whistle called out the fire department to extinguish the flames in a small house near the foundry, but before the department arrived, firemen from the foundry had put the fire out. The damage was very slight.

Through the courtesy of the Great Spiegel, his famous rag time band appeared on the streets last evening taking part in the Hallowe'en festivities. The band appeared on the streets early in the evening and marched up and down Donner avenue, playing all the latest rag time music. They made a decided hit with the crowd and proved a good advertisement for the Great Spiegel who is appearing at the opera house.

COMMITTEE THANKS JUDGES

The committee in charge of the Hallowe'en celebration wish to thank the judges for their efficient work, the auto owners for the use of their cars and most important of all, we wish to comment upon the efficiency of the local police officers. Father of Medicine.

Aesculapius was styled the father of medicine and the god of medicine with equal propriety, as it is not certain whether he was half god or mere man. His pedigree is involved in the mazes of mythology. He is represented as having practiced medicine so successfully as not only to have prevented the death of the living, but to have recalled the dead to life. Tradition says that Jupiter, for some offense, slew him with a thunderbolt, and after his death he received divine honors. One of his whims was to invest the serpent with a sort of sacred character as the symbol of veneration and also because of its supposed power of discovering healing herbs. A heroic sized statue of him in Berlin represents him as leaning on a staff around which is coiled a huge snake that rests its head in friendly fashion on his arms Aesculapius had two daughters, whose names are preserved in modern English—Hygeia and Panacea.—Philadelphia Press.

When Connecticut Owned Chicago.

Connecticut once claimed the territory Chicago now occupies. This was at the close of the Revolutionary war, when what is now Chicago was only a ruined fort, built long before, and called Che-caw-gou. In 1783 Massachusetts, Connecticut, Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Georgia claimed to own the territory west of them as far as the Mississippi river, although the territories of Massachusetts and Connecticut were interrupted by parts of New York and Pennsylvania. The line between Massachusetts and Connecticut came a little north of what is now Chicago. It was Maryland that reduced these huge domains. Having no western territory herself, she refused to accept the articles of confederation unless the other states would agree to cede the western territories to the confederation itself, to be made in course of time, into new states.

Rise and Fall of a Mining Town.

A curious instance of the latter day rise and fall of a mining town developed at Hosmer, in the Crow's Nest district, Canada. Coal was found and a mine opened without regard to expenditure. In all over $1,000,000 was put into the operations. Many promising seams were cut, and so sure were the engineers of the quality and quantity of coal to be reached that a double tunnel, with a side air passage, was driven the whole length Expensive tipples, tramways and a washer were constructed and a battery of 240 coke ovens built to take care of the washed slack coal product from the mine. However, the coal seams proved to be so broken and irregular that operations were entirely too expensive and were abandoned. As a consequence the town of Hosmer, which had a population of about 1,000, is now a deserted village.

WOMEN SHOULD TAKE WARNING

If the statement made at a New York Assembly of women, that healthy American women are so rare that they are almost extinct, is true, it is time for the women of America to take warning and look to their health. It may be headaches, backaches, dragging down pains, nervousness, mental depression that are telltale symptoms of some organic derangement for which Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—a simple remedy made from roots and herbs—is a specific and may be relied upon to restore women to a healthy normal condition.

Announce Engagement

At one o'clock Saturday afternoon, October 30, a very delightful luncheon was held at the home of W. L. Newbaker of Wilkinsburg, at which affair occurred the announcement of the engagement of his daughter, Ida Mae Newbaker, to Frank H. Nicholson, of Lynd, Minn. Miss Newbaker is a very popular young woman of Wilkinsburg, and is very well known here, having visited many times at the home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mr. John Menefee. Mr Nicholson is a graduate of Cornell and is a signal engineer at New Haven, Conn. The wedding date has been set for the early spring.

A Sad Case

Mrs. Alexander Labin, Jr., aged 17, whose husband, Alexander Labin, Jr., died the day after their marriage, is at the home of Labin's parents, in a critical condition. No hope is held out for the recovery of the girl widow.

The wife of a single day is dying of a broken heart. She was married to Labin on September 29. The following day they went to Silverton, W. Va. on their honeymoon. That same evening the young bridegroom became ill and died of acute indigestion. Since that time the widow has been in a state of absolute collapse.
